Lewis Sends Out Call For Miners Strike

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 15. —After approving and sending on its way to the four thousand local unions in the country the official order calling on all union bituminous coal miners in the United States to cease coal production at midnight on Oct. 31, John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, left here late today for Washington to attenr a conference called by Secretary of Labor Wilson with Thomas T. Brewster, president of the coal operators association. Mr. Lewis will arrive in Washington late tomorrow.

Before leaving Mr. Lewis declared that the only thing that could prevent a strike of the miners on November 1, would be the reaching of an agreement between the miners and operators' representatives before that date. Even if that should result from the Washington conference he said, the agreement would not be binding until it had been acted upon by miners at a re-convened convention. The signing of an agreement by the representatives of the operators and miners before November 1, it was said, however, would mean the countermanding of the strike order issued today at least until the convention acted upon the contract. In the meantime he said preparations for the strike would be continued as if the conference were not in progress. The strike order warns the mine workers that there must be no suspension or stoppage of coal production before the time fixed in the order and declares that orderly procedure must be followed thruout. The United Mine Workers of America are now embarking on the greatest enterprise ever under taken in the history of the trade union movement the order reads in conclusion and each member of our organization must cooperate and assist in bringing success to our efforts. You will be guided only by the policies of your union and the official orders emanating from its officers.

Reports from the Baltic Front Are Conflicting

LONDON, Oct. 15.—It is generally recognized that the fall of Orel and Tula would mean that Moscow was doomed. There is uncertainty about the position at Riga. According to the report of a German officer at Mitau, Colonel Avaloff - Bermondt, commanding the Russo-German forces is not aiming at the capture of Riga, but desires only to secure the Dvina front against Moscow.

It seems that the Lettish commander has refused a second offer of an armistice by Colonel Avaloff-Bermondt and that 6,000 Esthonian reinforcements have arrived and fighting around Riga continues vigorously.

Another report credits the Poles with having started an offensive against the Germans and with having captured Kovno.

It is officially confirmed that the supreme council has invited Germany to cooperate in the blockade measures against Soviet Russia, and according to a German newspaper is inclined to agree on certain conditions but has not formulated a reply.

The Westminister Gazette calls atention to the fact that Urkainia has declared war on Denikine and to the evident suspicions of all the Russian border states regarding the entente's intention toward their independent status.

The Gazette admits that the whole thing is incohtrent and urges that the situation demands full explanation from the government a contention which is also voiced by other newspapers.

GOMPERS CONFINED TO HIS BED BY ILLNESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, confined to his bed at his home here in a state of temporary nervous exhaustion, was reported tonight to be feeling much better. His physician stated that the labor leader's condition was not serious and that he probably would be able to resume his activities as head of the labor group in the industrial conference. Early in the day, Mr. Gompers secretary announced to members of the industrial conference that the federation chief had a temperature of 101 and that his physician had ordered him to remain in bed.

Later, Mr. Gompers sent word to members of labor delegation that he expected to be present at the conference tomorrow and it was announced that Mr. Gompers' temperature was only 99 degrees and that generally he was feeling much better.

MILLION DOLLAR ROBBERY NIPPED BY U. S. OFFICER

Three Yeggs Had Planned to Blow Camp Grant Safe

MEN ARE IDENTIFIED

ROCKFORD, Ill., Oct. 15.—A plot to blow the safe in the disbursing quartermaster's office at Camp Grant tonight and steal the million dollar payroll, by three alleged Chicago safeblowers, was frustrated today by Captain Robert E. Howie, camp intelligence officer.

James Novack, alias James Coyle, said to be a safe blower, and with Larry King, broke out of the Sheffield avenue police station in Chicago last July after assaulting the lock keeper, and Dan Hayes and James Dwyer, believed to be professional cracksmen, are the three held on suspicion in the Winnebago county jail here.

Novack was identified here today by Police Detective Sergeants Sullivan and Engle of Chicago. He was employed as a civilian laborer, and the other two as warehouse night watchmen at the cantonment where they had been working the last month.

Captain Howie became suspicious a week ago and an investigation that followed revealed the alleged plot. Believing that the men had criminal records and learning thru secret channels that the robbery was to be about October 15, he notified the Chicago detective bureau who sent out the detectives, that resulted in Novack's identification and the arrest of the trio.

As this is pay week, the camp office is said to contain about $1,000,000 in currency. As high as $5,000,000 dollars has been held there when the camp was at the peak in population. Tonight the officers are searching for nitro fuses and caps reported to be buried at the camp by the alleged yeggs. It is understood Novack will be taken back to Chicago. The other two will be held by the military authorities. All refuse to talk.

BURLESON GIVES FIRST ACCOUNT OF ADMINISTRATION

Postmaster General in Sharp Attack Upon His Critics.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 15. —Postmaster General Burleson today gave the National Hardware association and the American Hardware Manufacturers' association in joint session here the first public account of his administration which he has made since he entered the cabinet.

Policies which have made him the object of perhaps the most bitter attacks directed against any of President Wilson's advisers were explained, and the difficulties of his administration under war conditions were described, the business men forming the audience interrupting frequently with applause or laughter. The postmaster with marked solemnity, told them how he loved his critics. Often Mr. Burleson was in fighting mood especially when discussing efforts to force a reversal in his policies.

"Record has been made as what I stand for," he declared, mashing his fist into his open palm, "and it's not going to be changed."

Chief among his critics Mr. Burleson listed the express companies which he said, were angered by his development of the parcel post; the railroads opposed to changing the basis of mail pay from weight to space; owners of pneumatic tube systems, which he declared, had been nothing short of "graft"; newspapers and magazines, which he had been forced to pay a higher second class rates; and the American Federation of Labor offended by his stand against public employes affiliating with an organization using the strike to enforce its demands. He declared he had been confronted with powerful opposition exerted thru congress by these interests.

Mr. Burleson particularly defended his enforcement of the espionage act, which he said earned him the epithets of the disloyal because he excluded seditionist newspapers from the mails.

Turning to current political questions the postmaster general declared the welfare of the country waited on ratification of the peace treaty by congress and the passage of important legislation urged by President Wilson many months ago.

"Now they are talking about a recess in November," he said with many things left undone. If the party in power undertakes any such step the attention of the American people will be brought to the facts."

SEC. WILSON CALLS BREWSTER AND LEWIS TO CAPITAL

Hopes to Avert Coal Miners Strike by Mediation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Secretary of Labor Wilson announced tonight that he had assumed jurisdiction over the law as a mediator in the controversy between the coal miners and operators of the central competitive fields which has resulted in call by the United Mine Workers of America of a strike on November 1.

Secretary Wilson said that both John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, and Thomas F. Brewster, president of the coal operators' association had acceptem his invitation to confer with him, and that the conference would be held on Friday.

The action of the labor secretary to bring about settlement of the dispute between the miners an doperators is to be undertaken under section eight of the law creating the department of labor which provides that the secretary of labor shall have power to act as mediator and to appoint commissioners of conciliation whenever, in his judgment the interests of industrial peace may require it to be done.

Intervention as a mediator in the proposed strike without awaiting a request from one of the parties to the controversy as is the usual policy of the labor department was said to have been impelled by the extreme gravity of the situation.

TWO MORE MEET DEATH IN CROSS COUNTRY FLIGHTS

Plane of Lieuts. Kirby and Miller Falls 200 Feet.

MAYNARD AT SIDNEY, NEB.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 15.—Lieutenant French Kirby, pilot, and Lieutenant Stanley C. Miller, observer, of airplane No. 44, in their trans-continental air derby, were killed at Castle Rock, Utah, late today when their Plane traveling westward, fell a distance of approximately 200 feet.

Lieutenant Kirby was killed instantly, according to the manager of the ranch at Castle Rock where the accident happened. Lieutenant Miller died about 6:40 o'clock tonight.

The machine was flying high when the engine was heard to stop and Kirby was seen to float downward. When about 200 feet in the air the machine dived straight for the ground. Lieutenant Kirby was dead when ranch hands reached the machine. Lieutenant Miller was alive and medical assistance was sent for, but he died before physicians could arrive from either Castle Rock of Evanston, Wyo.

Maynard Covers 742 Miles.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Lieutenant B. W. Maynard, the "flying parson," continued his rush thru the western skies today on the return trip from San Francisco to New York, and between sunrise and sunset had covered 742 miles of the second lap of the army's special race over the trans-continental course, spending the night at Sidney, Neb. While he was hurrying towards the eastern goal two fliers met death in a 200 foot fall at Castle Rock, Utah. They were Lieutenant French Kirby, pilot, and Lieutenant Stanley C. Miller, observer. Their deaths make a total of seven fatalities since the start of the race on October 8.

Major Carl Spatz and Captain Lowell H. Smith started from Mineola, N. Y., today at 2:28:18 and 2:31:56, respectively on the return journey to San Francisco. Captain Smith reached Buffalo at 6:13:20 p. m., but his machine was destroyed by fire after he landed.

Lieutenant Maynard who left San Francisco on Tuesday at 1:12 p. m. covered 356 miles on the first day of his return flight and 742 miles today, landing at Sidney, Neb. at 5:16 p. m., mountain time. He has 1,503 miles ahead of him. He expects to reach Chicago on Thursday night and hopes to be in New York before sundown on Friday.

Lieutenant Colonel J. N. Reynolds and Lieutenant H. W. Sheridan landed at San Francisco at 10:55 and 10:56 a. m., respectively and Major J. C. P. Bartholl landed at New York at 5:28 p. m. Twenty-four aviators are still out on the first lap.

Planes Destroyed by Fire.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The airplane in which Captain L. H. Smith arrived here from New York this evening was destroyed by fire at the local landing field tonight. Captain Smith was the leader in the return flight of western aviators in the cross-country air race.

Mechanics were at work repairing the plane for the resumption tomorrow of Captain Smith's flight when the wings caught fire from a lantern. In a few minutes the airplane was destroyed.

Lieut. A. B. Pitts, commander of the control said tonight that a report of the accident had been sent to Washington and that the authorities there would decide whether Captain Smith would be allowed to continue the flight in a new plane.

Captain Smith arrived in Buffalo at 6:33 p. m., having completed the 323 miles from New York in three hours, one minute and 24 seconds, allowing a half hour out of the controls at Binghampton and Rochester. This was at a rate of about 107 miles an hour.

LARGE BOOTY OF JEWELS TAKEN

New York, Oct. 15.—The theft of jewels valued at between $100,000 and $150,000 from the apartment of Mrs. Leyla Brandeis was reported to the police. Mrs. Brandeis is the widow of H. H. Brandeis who with two brothers founded the department store in Omaha, Neb., which bears their name. A steel box in which the jewels had been kept had been wrenched from the wall of the closet where it had been built in.

ILLINOIS PRESS ASSOCIATION DISBANDS

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Disbanding of the Illinois Press Association with the ultimate object of amalgamating the membership with the stand Daily Press association will be considered at a joint meeting of the organizations tomorrow, it was announced today, following a meeting of the Illinois body.

Foreigners Must Preserve Order, Declares Palmer

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 15.—Law and order must be preserved in America and immigrants coming here must realize that when they reach these shores their time for the use of force is behind them, Attorney General Palmer declared tonight in an address at Founders' Day exercises at LaFayette College. "The mistake which seems to have been made by many who have come here recently from other parts of the world," Mr. Palmer said, "is this: they affect to believe that the general movement for better conditions of life in other parts of the world must have its counterpart in method in this newer world. They refuse to see the stupendous advance which has been made in that movement here during the last century by men of larger minds and broader visions who preceded them to this land for the very purpose.

"It is difficult for us to give credit for sincerity to many of the ultra radical class war agitators who seek the short and rough road built by force when they have at hand the smooth, tho possibly longer route. It is clear that some of them are honestly mistaken; it is equally clear that many of them are mere self-seekers who would exploit some of their unthinking fellows for their own benefit.

"The ingenuity of man has made the Atlantic ocean a mere ditch between the two continents. New inventions will make it narrower still. But it must always be wide enough enough to permit the immigrant, as he crosses it to rid himself for all time of all the misconceptions of government with which the old conditions filled his mind. He must realize that his revolution has been fought and won when he sets his foot on American soil. His time for the use of force is then behind him, his time for the use of intelligence has come.

"Law and order are essential to improvement. The law must be respected and order must be maintained, if progress is expected. I would not halt at a single moment any movement designed by its promoters to bring better conditions to any portion of our people but I would use all the power of the people's government to make certain that such a movement shall be conducted in the peaceful and orderly way provided by the people for the accomplishment of all reform."

Latest Report Says Wilson Is Getting Better

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Absence of any new complication in President Wilson's illness brought from his bedside, late today, the assurance that he is "getting better". Elimination of the recent annoyance caused by a slightly enlarged gland has removed the only outstanding obstacle to his convalescence, and about the white house there was manifested a decided atmosphere of optimism His condition early in the day was summarized in the following bulletin:

"The White House, October 15 1919, 11:55 a. m.

"The president had a good night's rest, enjoyed his breakfast and aside from a slight headache continues to improve. The condition which caused the restlessness of Monday night and about which Dr. Fowler was consulted gave no trouble during the night.

"GRAYSON,
"RUFFIN,
"STITT."

Only the following brief statement was issued by Rear-Admiral Grayson, the president's physician, at 10:30 o'clock tonight:

"The president has had a satisfactory day."

The headache from which he was suffering early in the day, it was learned had disappeared.

With the exception of the news furnished him by Mrs. Wilson, the president has learned little of national and international developments, altho he is given daily a general summary of events. He has at times expressed a keen desire for more comprehensive reports and has asked Rear-Admiral Grayson, his personal physician for news, but always Dr. Grayson has succeeded in keeping away from his patient information that might prove trying to his nerves, with the reminder that as a physician he has been too busy to keep in touch with government subjects. The president's appetite is reported to be as good as expected and recurrence of the glandular trouble is not anticipated. Only a moderate rate of recovery is looked for and indications official and otherwise, are that the improvement announced today may be continued.

RETURNS FROM ROODHOUSE

Mrs. David Smith returned home Sunday evening from Roodhouse where she went to visit her daughter Mrs. Roscoe Maberry and family and also her brother Sam DeFrates and family. Mrs. Smith also went to Palmyra to attend the funeral of her aunt. Mrs. Mary DeFrates which was held on Thursday at Palmyra.

SHANTUNG IS DEBATED ALL DAY IN SENATE

Leaders Expect to Vote on Amendment Today.

MANY SENATORS TAKE PART

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Filling another seven hour session with talk the senate today upset the hopes of leaders on both sides of the treaty fight that a vote might be reached on the Shantung amendment, or that at least some progress might be made in the reading of the treaty text.

The formal reading of the text had been the original purpose of the long session arranged for today, but the Shantung question got the floor at the outset and it soon was evident that the treaty ratifying body was off for another field day of debate.

Hoping then that the way might be cleared for the reading at tomorrow's session by ending debate on the Shantung provision today, the leaders agreed informally that the amendment should be voted on if possible before adjournment. Both sides lined up their forces for the test but when, late in the afternoon Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, began another long attack on the treaty the senate managers threw up their hands and announced there would be no roll call today. Still other senators were asking for recognition when a recess was taken and they are expected to continue the debate tomorrow. There has been no formal agreement, but the leaders hope for final action on the amendment some time tomorrow afternoon.

During most of today's session the debate stuck close to the amendment which was the foreign relation committee's amendment to transfer the Shantung rights to China, in place of Japan. Five senators whose stand had been the subject of some speculation announced they would support a reservation on the subject.

They were Senators Colt of Rhode Island, Lenroot of Wisconsin and Spencer of Missouri, Republicans; and Shields of Tennessee and Thomas of Colorado, Democrats.

Besides Senator Reed, Senators Borah of Idaho, Brandegee of Connecticut and Lodge of Massachusetts, spoke in support of the amendment, Mr. Brandegee reading into the record a long pamphlet on the subject published by the Chinese Society of America. Senator Lodge, who as chairman of the foreign relations committee wrote the amendment made a speech of only a few sentences in reply to the argument that amendment of the treaty would mean its defeat.

"We never will see the day," Mr. Lodge said, "when Europe will refuse to let the United States come into the treaty on any terms it chooses. It can dictate today but the moment we become ensnarled in the league we can't do it."

During the day two interpretive resolutions, proposing the preservation of Egypt's right to self government and construing the league covenant to guarantee freedom to capable peoples placed under mandatories by the treaty, were presented by Senator Owen, Democrat of Oklahoma. He said he intended the measures to be entirely separate from the treaty ratification.

YOUNG WOMEN'S DRESSES IMMODEST

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Dresses worn by modern young women and girls are attractive but "attract observation that is not desired." Miss May Bosworth of New York, field secretary of the Y. W. C. A., told a conference of field girls' secretaries of the association at the opening session of a three day conference here today.

Secretaries from the central field, comprising the states of Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana heard Miss Bosworth declare that many modern gowns permit such a perfect view of the feminine form as to make them "immodest."

The conference will discuss tomorrow the problem of the girl between ten and eighteen years of age.

Dr. Foote of the Harvard Divinity school, is a brave man. He recently made an address in which he attacked as absurd the plan of employing singers for church music. Any minister or layman who gets into argument with the church choir people has no sense of personal danger.

THE STRAIN OF LIFE AT WASHINGTON

The strain of public and semi-public life down at Washington is certainly great these days. The latest to succumb is Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor. His physician declares that some period of rest is necessary. The presence of Mr. Gompers is greatly needed at this time. While he holds far more radical views about industrial and economic problems than the average citizen, he is mild indeed when other men in labor leadership are considered.

THE BOY SCOUTS FRIEND

That was a fitting ceremony by which a flag was taken a distance of fifty miles by Boy Scouts in relays to place upon the grave of ex-Pres. Roosevelt. No man did more to impress upon the public the worthiness and possibilities of the Boy Scout movement than did the ex-president.

PUBLIC POLICY QUESTIONS

It now seems certain thru the action of Judge Smith in dissolving injunction that the initiative and referendum, the so-called "gate way amendment" and the ownership of public utilities proposal will be upon the ballot in the election to be held in November. Possibly more interest will attach to the question relating to public utilities than to the others of the group. The idea of those behind the movement is to have the people at the coming election instruct the delegates to the constitutional convention that they want—proposals relating to these three questions submitted to the voters in connection with the constitutional convention program. If the proposal as outlined should eventually become a part of the constitution, any community would have the right to engage in the operation of any public utility. All three of these proposals should be thoroly discussed before election day so that the people will have a full understanding of the questions on which they are expected to express their views.

People sometimes think that there is a great chasm of years between the present and the time that the country all about was virgin prairie. That was the day when wild turkey, quail and other game birds abounded in the wooded spots of Morgan county. Supposedly those days are gone but as a matter of fact a flock of quail was seen on West College avenue one day this week. Still many years will doubtless pass before the last evidence of pioneer days are gone.

POPULARIZING RELIGION

Lieut. Maynard, winner of first honors in the coast to coast air trip has been dubbed the "flying parson." In the time intervening since Peter Cartwright and other "fighting" parsons flourished, the ological students and men of the cloth have in some quarters been considered effeminate and of the "sissy" type. That day is thoroly gone and a great factor in correcting this error of the public mind was in the war itself.

Men in the army service became familiar with the bravery and the spirit of self-sacrifice which characterized most of the chaplains of the army and others engaged in religious work. Some of the scoffers became admirers and to thoroly understand that the well ordered life in no way blots out daring and courage Lieut. Maynard and a great many other men who saw service have made a large contribution toward popularizing religion.

THE HIGH PLACES

I have bought a grand piano and a sumptuous sedan, and a lot of other doodads, on the monthly payment plan. On each thing I paid a dollar, and I'll pay a monthly bone, till I'm laid away and sleeping underneath a sagging stone. It is true I didn't need them, and I haven't coin to burn, but I see my neighbors blowing every kopeck that they earn, and if they can have pianos and fine motors and such stuff, I will go as far as they do, tho it makes the sledding tough. Every month I'll pay a dollar on the junk I do not need, till I limp around on crutches and my whiskers go to seed; and when I have crossed the river to the shinning golden shore, I will still be owing money to the Jinx in stalment store. And I fear the recollection will destroy my peace of mind, when I have a harp before me and a pair of wings behind. But my neighbors, they keep blowing every rouble, every red, and I'd be a sort of piker if I let them get ahead; so I'm buying circus wagons, and I'm buying costly gems, and my wife is wearing sables and has diamond diadems, and I bought the whole caboodle on the monthly payment plan, and I'm riding to the poorhouse in a super-eight sedan.

THE OBSERVATORY

Norway has voted for prohibition. It looks like a foreign demand, also, now, for our raisins.

In Fact, As It Is Written Today.

If the story of the Good Samaritan were written today, it would probably state that the priest and the Levite drove by on the other side in their super-sixes and that finally a Samaritan in a flivver stopped and picked up the man who had fallen among thieves.

Meditation from R. A. Clymer in the Eldorado Republican: "If the Lord has anything to do with golf, which we sometimes doubt, he gives the dub a corking good drive once in awhile just to keep him trying."

Time's Violent Death.

The fellow at the telephone in the drug store had been trying for fifteen minutes to engage the attention of "Central" and was pounding the hook up and down in a disturbing manner.

"What're you trying to do—bust that telephone?" demanded demanded the druggist.

The psalmist said in his haste, 'All men are liars." Dr. H. H. Goddard of Toledo, wishes now to corroborate that statement as "a scientific conclusion." And while David admitted he spoke in the heat of the moment, Doctor Goddard now has the income tax revelations to support his conclusion.

His Fear.

A gentleman of hitherto seemingly substantial intellect attended a burlesque show, and in the midst of the performance began first to mutter, then chatter and presently to scream along in agonized tones. After he had been removed and a physician had ministered to him the sufferer explained:

"I feared I was losing my mind or my eyesight, or both. I sat thru fully half of the show, and did not see a trio composed of an impossible Jew adorned with a mangy beard and a spoon-shaped derby, an ostensible Irishman clad in pink neck whiskers and a young gent arrayed in the uniform of a naval officer."

Colonel House's Gall Stones.

The sympathy of all humane persons must go out to Colonel House who is suffering from gall stones "complicated by a severe cold," says the Kansas City Star. A severe cold is bad enough. But with gall stones added! The colonel must think he is back at Paris discussing Fiume with the Italians.

But if Colonel House will examine his ailment closely he will find in it certain features which bear a startlingly close analogy to the relation of the league covenant to the Peace Treaty.

To sketch briefly the points in the analogy, his trouble (like the covenant) produces a violent pain under the wishbone, baffling to the novice and apparently combining all the undesirable features of lumbago, muscular rheumatism, pleurisy, duo denal ulcer and appendicitis. Again, covenant-like, it doesn't yield to the popular olive oil treatment. The only remedy (as in the case of the treaty) is a major operation in which the gall stones are removed and put away in a glass bottle for the patient to show his friends when he recovers.

The Bible in the Movies.

Chicago Daily News: If carried out, that plan to "film' the entire Bible ought to make the scriptures popular with a lot of people who know more about the achievements of Douglas Fairbanks than about the deeds of Samson.

Popularizing the Farm.

Hasten the Gay!

Kansas City Times: Congress is figuring on a vacation after the peace treaty and the league of nations is disposed of, and so is the country.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

DO YOU KNOW WHERE YOU LIVE?

By Ensley Moore
(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

Many persons may never have thought of the location of their residences. That is, as to what lot it is, in what division or subdivision of the city.

Much History In It.

There is a great deal of interesting history in the regular lines, block, street and alley of any town or city. That is as to when the addition—or original plat of a town were made, and by whom; thereby noting names of the parties making additions.

Some of your ancestors may have laid out the addition you live in; or it may be, some other relative did.

Illinois Belonged to Several Nations.

Our state belonged to the Indians, to the French and Spanish, to England, and finally to our Uncle Sam.

After the aged and respected relative of us all took hold of it, in 1778, by the help of George Rogers Clark and his ragged followers, and Virginia turned it over to the Federal government, the government begin making surveys, and plotting land into sections or townships; and, as towns were needed managing or business men turned open lands of farms into towns and cities. These men profited by their enterprise, as they had a right to, more or less, according to the development of a given place.

Jacksonvile Laid Out.

This town was laid out in 1825, by two men, Thomas Arnett and Isaac Dial. It was done, in agreement with the county commissioners, for a county seat, and Arnett and Dial gave the county forty acres of the new town—double the quantity required by law. There were eighty acres of land included in the original plat—extending now from Centenary church to Scott Block east and west and from Madison street on the north, to the alley first south of College avenue on the south—not a very large range of country, especially compared with our "magnificient distances" of town. The city now extending a mile or more in each direction from the "Public Square."

Early Sub-Divisions.

Among some of the first additions made to the "town of Jacksonville" were—say a quarter of a mile each way from the Square—those on the East, McConnel's Ratekins, two of Bibbs, and Chambers 1st; on the South, Wilkinson and Brown's, King's Hackett and McCling's, Thomas', and Duncan and Clark's; on the West, McHenry-Johnson's, Capps and Lambert's, Duncan's West, and Chandler's, the latter being the largest of all; and on the North, Melendy's, Litton's, Dunlap's, Litton and Cassell's, Robertsons, and Wolcott's.

On the city plat some other "subs" are shown by number (within the bounds referred to above) no names being given.

Some additions are given fancy names instead of those of their makers, as "Elm Grove."

In the early plattings the lots were generally small, but alleys were made. This was a good thing on many accounts.

In some of the newer additions few, if any alleys were included. This makes access to the rear of places bad, and wastes much space in driveways. The lots in these plats, however, are generally much larger and more attractive for residence purposes.

Prominent Citizens.

As a rule most of the additions to the town, and present city, were made by well known or prominent citizens, as is illustrated by such names as McConnel, Ratekin, Bibb, Wilkinson and Brown (probably Judge William Brown), Dunlap, (probably Col. James), Wolcott (Elizur), McHenry-Johnson, Col. Chambers, Capps and Lambert, and Chandler (Dr. Ero, who gave lots to the old original First Presbyterian church and to the Academy, in his addition).

It might be added that this article was written in the house on lot seven, block ten, City Addition.

AN OLD DEED

In looking over some old papers recently Samuel W. Carter was interested in finding a deed given in February, 1846. By this document John T. and Judith Joy transferred to Sylvester Joy forty acres of land described as the east half of the west half of the northwest quarter of section 9 township 15, range 11. The purchase price was $100, or $2.50 per acre. The deed is of interest to Mr. Carter because of family relationship and further as indicating the marked change in values that has come about in the intervening years.

Women Workers

In almost every line of war activities the women of this country have done well and have taken front rank for doing work that released thousands of men for service overseas. Some women have been over-ambitious, and, at the expense of their health, have filled plices once occupied by men. Every woman, who, because of overwork, has brought on some ailment peculiar to her sex, should depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her health and strength, as this remedy is now recognized as the standard and has restored multitudes.—Adv.

RASPBERRIES IN BLOOM

Mrs. Joseph DeGoveia of 425 Caldwell street has found that the red raspberry bushes in her garden are in full bloom. In fact, some of the blooms have developed so far that a few more days of warm weather will insure a second crop of raspberries. The foliage of the bushes is green and fresh with all the appearance of spring.

IN times past it perhaps has been necessary for ladies desiring strictly tailored dresses of the highest character in style and workmanship, to go to one of the larger cities. Such however is not true at the present time.

We consider that we have been extremely fortunate in securing the services of Mark Strassberg, a gentleman who has given years of study to the designing and making of ladies' dresses. Mr. Strassberg has served in this capacity with such firms as Marshall Field and Jacques of Chicago, and Horn of Pittsburgh, which in itself is a strong recommendation, and is eminently fitted to carry to success any work entrusted to his care.

Mr. Strassberg is a natural designer, following of course to a necessary extent the dictates of fashion, giving his first attention to producing the dress that will be truly becoming to the wearer. He is apt in understanding the individual ideas a patron may have and wish followed. And after the design has been decided upon Mr. Strassberg is equally adept in tracing the pattern and in draping. And in workmanship there is nothing left to be desired, a corps of skilled makers having been employed.

In popular dress materials we might mention the new Tricotine, Tricolette and Duvetyne; and velveteen for frocks. In suits the favorite broadcloths and serges, with the new Chevola, Habit and Mikado Checks, Heathertones and Radium Cord.

We are prepared to give absolute satisfaction, whether your order be for a specially designed wedding trosseau, party or street dress, and a cordial invitation is extended to the ladies of this city and vicinity to call and discuss these matters with us.

Beauty Answers

By MADAME MAREE

MINNIE—The great secret of making hair grow is in the development of the vigor of hair roots. Mere stimulation of the scalp is not enough. It is the lack of realization of this fact which is the cause of so much failure in the treatment of the hair. The hair roots may be developed to a very remarkable degree by using the proper methods. As a root-developer nothing can equal the use of beta-quinol. This can be secured at any drug store for 50 cents, in one-ounce packages. When mixed with a half pint of bay rum and a half pint of water the developer is ready to use. It is not oily, and when used liberally gives all the results which anyone could wish. By developing the roots, the growth is forced, it becomes thick, vigorous and silky, bald spots fill out, and instead of shrunken, sick hairs which fall out readily on combing we have strong hair, held firmly in the scalp, thus putting an end to hair falling.

MRS. A. T. F.—The skin can be brought back to its original plumpness and vigor by the following formula. An astonishing result is the quick disappearance of wrinkles, little and big, crows' feet, and lines of age. It is simple and can be prepared in a few moments, by adding to half a pint of water one tablespoonful of glycerine and two ounces of eptol, obtained from your druggist for 50 cents. This takes years from your appearance, and is always sure and positive in its work if you will apply it liberally, every day.

MAY B. T.—As to head-wash, I advise against using soap or the many shampoos sold, because of the alkali they contain. This dries up hair secretions. Get eggol at the drug store and dissolve a teaspoonful of it in half a cup of water. You can get enough eggol for twenty-five cents for a dozen or more head-washes. It is magic in cleansing hair and scalp, and aids wonderfully in making hair grow.

Matrimonial

Bond-Zeppenfield.

The marriage of Leroy Bond and Miss Jessie E. Zeppenfield, both of this city, was solemnized Saturday evening at 5 o'clock by Squire C. O. Bayha at his office on West State street. The ceremony was witnessed by William Kepler and Virgil Edwards of Nortonville. The young people will begin housekeeping in this city and have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy wedded life. The groom is a painter by occupation.

Bland-McCarty.

Robert Walton Bland and Miss Ruth McCarty, both of this city, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs. A. J. McCarty of East College avenue at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The ceremony was said by the Rev. Myron L. Pontius, pastor of Central Christian church, the ring service being used. Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCarty. She is a member of Central Christian church and has been active in the work of the young peoples organizations of the church. She is a young woman of great personal charm and has many friends in the city who will unite in wishing her much happiness.

The groom is the only son of Mrs. Emma W. Bland of South Main street. He was in army service during the war and is a young man highly regarded in a large circle of friends.

The couple left Wednesday afternoon for St. Louis for a visit after which they will go to Memphis, Tenn., and DeHaven, Ten., where they will visit with sisters of the bride, who are residing in those cities. Miss Grace McCarty who has been visiting her parents for the past month accompanied them, as she returns to her home in Memphis.

Mrs. Mary Draper and daughter, Miss Alice Draper of Springfield, were among the out-of-town guests at the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Bland will be at home early in November at 529 South Main street.

SIMPLE HOME REMEDY ADVISED FOR ROSE AND HAY FEVER

Anyone Can Make a Pint for Trifling Sum and Used in Time May Prevent Annual Attack.

"No mattr how severe your yearly attack be.

No matter how distressing or humiliating—

says a Kentucky druggist who believes from what he has seen that this simple home made remedy is a most important discovery.

He has seen the most severe and apparently unconquerable cases reduced to what might be called a mild cold in twenty-four hours.

In many cases where the patient started treatment a week or ten days before the expected attack the unwelcome yearly visitor failed to appear with anything like its usual intensity.

People who want to try this new treatment can make a pint in a few minutes.

Pour one ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle daily as directed and snuff or spray the nostrils twice daily.

That's all there is to the treatment which so many sufferers have found to be a true friend.

FASCINATING TEETH

How Every Woman Can Quickly Charm Her Friends With Lovely Teeth, Clean, White and Brilliant

If you want the cleanest of white teeth and healthy gums free from disease, an easy and quick way to get both is to use a tooth paste so effective and perfect that astonishing results usually come in a week's time.

And the cost is so little. Just go to any drug or department store, and get a large tube of SENRECO TOOTH PASTE for 35 cents.

Not only will it make your teeth clean and white, but it will at once remove any filmy coating, help to check the ravages of Pyorrhea and banish acidity in the mouth.

It is used by thousands of dentists and its sale has been remarkable. When you visit your dentist, which you should do at least twice a year, ask him about SENRECO. It's a most delightful and refreshing tooth paste.

Sweaters

WHAT IS THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION?

A Call to Service.

It is a man's ministry to men, saving men's lives with their souls, and saving for Christ like service.

It is a man's method of work with men, making men helped responsible for helping their fellows.

It is a man's interpretation of christianity to men in terms of manhood.

It is a man's challenge to hidden talent in men, discovering latent leadership in the Church, and mightily reinforcing the ministry.

It is a man's program of work for men, proposing the humanly impossible task and driving men to prayer to accomplish it.

It pays a man's wages for winning men, the zest and stress of the effort, the joy of achievement and the worth of the prize.

It is a call to the man of business capacity to subordinate business to religion and multiply himself by thousands.

It is a call to the man of social power to turn fellowship into comradeship, "Not to be ministered, but to minister."

It is a call to a larger fellowship, broad as the brotherhood of man, deep as men's need, high as Christ's hope, and wide as the world opportunity.

Tobacco Habit Dangerous

says Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health today were it not for the deadly drug Nicotine. Stop the habit now before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get sime Nicotol tablets; take them as directed and lo; the pernicious habit quickly vanishes. Druggists refund the money if they fail. Be sure to read large and interesting announcement by Doctor Connor soo to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets; you will be surprised at the result.

BRIDGE COMPANY SEEKS INJUNCTION

Writ Sought to Put an End to Picketing and Threats—Company Desires Protection For its Property and for Men Who Wish to Work.

The Illinois Steel Bridge Co., thru Wilson & Butler as attorneys, have filed in the Morgan circuit county court a bill for injunction directed against the International Association of Bridge Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers, Local No. 298. The bill also names certain individual defendants. In the bill it is set forth that the business of the company has been interfered with by the union and the individuals named; that threats have been made and men who wish to work interfered with The individual defendants named are Howard Schneider, Leo DeLess, Russel Nunes, Walter Coraor, Elmo Little, Tom Majors, Roy Dorsworth, Arthur Willner, Reuben Vieira, Harry Souza, John R. Smith, Tony DeFreitas and Emmet Barber.

Supporting Officials.

The purpose of the bill is for a writ of injunction directing and restraining them from interfering with or stopping any of the business of the Illinois Steel Bridge Co., or its agents, servants or employes. It is asked that the injunction be heard at tht first day of the November term of court. The petition is signed by T. A. Chapin, vice-president and general manager of the Illinois Steel Bridge Co.

In support of this prayer for injunction there are appended affidavits from a number of employes of the company, setting forth facts about threats made against them, and other statements as to how they were interfered with in their desire to continue to work for the company. Such statements were sworn to by Frank Black, S. J. Wiley, Manuel Baptist, O. G. Calender, H. L. Hutches, O. R. Campbell, Fred Runkel, Alexander Rabjohn, Joe Sousa, Paris Hutson, H. P. Mohn, J. H. Gill, Charles R. Cox, Aaron W. Woods, Lee Wiegand, Roy Mason, James Johnson, A. F. Sardinha, Elbert Douglas, Glenn Seymour, Philip Berst, John Wingler, H. C. Wiley, Chester Mullen, Ernest DeFrates, Aldo Briggs.

Most of these men state in their affidavits that they have been employes of the company; that they desire to work but that they quit because of threatening conditions that developed with the picketing of the plant by the strikers and their sympathizers who congregated at the plant day after day, jeering the men when they went to work and when they quit in the evening.

In the opening paragraphs of the bill the Bridge Co sets forth various facts about its business, stating that the plant and business represent an investment of $400,000 and that the plant has been producing more than 600 tons of finished product per month. Further, they maintain 100 men were in the employ of the company at the time the present industrial trouble began.

Troubles Reviewed.

It is recited that on August 15 that a committee waited upon the Bridge Co. officials, requesting that the company allow organization of a union of employes and that thereafter no persons be employed in the plant except those men who should belong to the proposed union, and that other persons should be discharged.

It is further stated that the company then consulted with employes and that almost 50 per cent expressed themselves as opposed to joining.

August 23 it is stated that a committee of six waited upon company officials and demanded recognition of the union and the discharge of other employes. It is said that there was no complaint about wages or hours, but merely the demand for the recognition of the union and the so-called closed shop. It is stated that Mr. Chapin as vice president and general manager of the company, told the committee that there was no objection to the formation of a union but that the company would not deal exclusively with such a union, and further, that the company would not discharge employes who were not members of the union.

Closed Plant.

Shortly afterward this committee made report to the employes and about 60 or 70 went on a strike.

The bill says about thirty employes did not strike but remained at work. Afterward there was a great commotion precipitated by those who struck and a great deal of bitter feeling shown by the strikers. The bill recites that company officers were afraid that riot and bloodshed would result and that those employes who had remained at work would receive bodily injury. Therefore the company and those employes who did not strike agreed that the plant would be closed for a week, and that employes who had not quit should be carried on the pay roll on half pay for that period.

It is set forth that on Sept. 4 the company again opened its plant and that about thirty employes returned to work, and thereupon the strikers in an effort to enforce their demands appointed pickets who congregated near the plant, stopped the company employes and endeavored to have them quit their work

It is further charged that threats of bodily injury were made to the employes if they remained at work, that they were called "scabs" and other opprobrious epithets. Specific cases are cited to show when, by whom the threats complained of were made. The attack on Charles Rogers, an employe of the company, on Sept. 5 is recited. It is stated that because of the continued threatening attitude that the thirty employes who had remained came to believe that it was unsafe for them to remain at work; that they subsequently held a meeting to discuss the situation with the officers of the company and it was decided that it was best for them not to remain at work.

Summarize Charges.

In another paragraph it is stated that the company has suffered loss in being compelled to cancel some of its orders; that at the time of the beginning of the trouble there was $250,000 worth of steel on hand; that the company decided to sell this steel and ship it out without endeavoring to fabricate it or to finish it, ready for use. The five employes engaged in this work were given the same treatment by the strikers and pickets that was accorded to the larger force. Therefore the company has been unable to make the shipment of raw materials planned. Other and similar charges are made, all tending to substantiate the company's contention that an injunction should properly be issued in order to permit of their operating their business and also to protect the rights of men who wish to be in the employ of the company.

FOUNDERS DAY AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Will Be Observed Tomorrow—Public Invited to Service Program—Holiday for Students.

Founders' day will be observed at the Woman's college Friday. There will be no class work during the day and at 10:30 tomorrow morning the public is invited to listen to the program. Rev. E. L. Pletcher, superintendent of the Jacksonville district, will give the Founders' day address, and Mrs. Belle Short Lambert will present a paper on President Jacquess, who was the first president of the college. This will relate especially to the connection of the president to the War of the Rebellion. Dr. Harker will speak briefly. There will be special music and the program promises to be one of great interest. The college was founded seventy-three years ago.

At 12:30 lunch will be served on the campus and in the afternoon the students will devote their time to special features of entertainment. The public is invited to attend the first organ recital by Director Pearson to be given at 8:15 o'clock Friday night. Those who have heard Mr. Pearson play are looking forward with interest to this public performance.

TAKES NEW LEASE ON PACIFIC HOTEL

Pacific Hotel Company Makes Five Year Lease—Have Made Extensive Improvements.

Edward A. Brennan, president of New Pacific Hotel company, announced Tuesday that a new lease for a period of five years had been signed for the property.

During the summer months extensive improvements have been made in the interior of the hotel. A new Springfield boiler has been installed to operate the heating plant. The lobby and cafe have been re-decorated and all of the rooms re-decorated and renovated. The improvements will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000.

ART AND ARTISTS

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat in a recent issue had a review commending the art work of Miss Nellie Knopf, for years head of the art department of the Woman's college. This review said:

"Last Sunday there were among the throngs in the galleries several out-of-town guests who came to St. Louis for the express purpose of seeing the Fourteenth Annual exhibition. Two of them were women, whose pictures passed the jury of selection. They were Gertrude J. Barnes of Minneapolis and Nellie A. Knopf of Chicago and Jacksonville, whose still-life compositions may be seen flanking the big portrait of Mrs. Bloomfield Moore by Sargent in gallery No. 31. Although this was their first visit to St. Louis, they were no strangers to the art lovers of St. Louis. Last year we commented with enthusiasm on Miss Knopf's 'A September Morning on the Beach', and two years ago she was represented by three pictures, two portraying that fascinating region where sea and land meet, the third a study of a wood interior in the pine forest. This year she brings us a group of remarkably painted zinnas and a more complex theme entitled 'Forest Fantasy'. Why is it that strangers are always so astonished to find that we actually have one of the great museums of the country? Is it because the newspapers say so little about it?"

CLOVER LEAF WILL ERECT NEW BUILDING

Will Proceed with Work at Early Date — Only Tentative Plans so Far—New Structure Will Cover Five Fronts on East State Street.

The Clover Leaf Life and Casualty company have decided to erect a new office building on their present site in East State street. The structure will include besides the building at present occupied the ones occupied by J. H. O'Donnell, Widmayer's market and the Walsh Electric company.

For some time the company has held its building plans in abeyance in the hope that the site would be used for a new hotel and that they would arrange for office space in the building.

Tentative plans were drawn for Edward A. Brennan, president of the Pacific Hotel company. These plans contemplated a six story building and the estimated cost was between one hundred and seventyfive thousand and two hundred thousand dollars.

Arrangements had practically been made to finance the structure. Recently the advance in building materials and labor have been such that the building as planned would now cost $300,000. This made the going forward with the plans out of the question as Mr. Brennan said that with such a cost for the building there could not possibly be any return on the investment. However, the new hotel project will not be lost sight of and when conditions are more favorable that it will be taken up again.

It is the purpose of the Clover Leaf company to erect a building which will take all of its frontage on East State street and the entire depth of the lot. Two stories will be erected and the foundation and walls will be built so that they will carry more stories, it being the intention of the company to later build the additional stories.

R. Y. Rowe, secretary of the company said yesterday that already they had many inquiries for office room and also for the store rooms that will be placed on the first floor. Mr. Rowe said the officials of the company were sorry that the hotel project could not be carried out. However, the business of the company is increasing so rapidly that the new building is necessary to take care of the home office force.

Takes Over New Busness.

The Clover Leaf Company has taken over the business of the Traders Life Insurance company of St. Louis. W. W. Killion, manager of the ordinary department of the company in St. Louis, was here yesterday closing the final details of the transfer.

J. F. Benson, general manager of the company at Jefferson City, Mo.; Fred Kessen, agent at Havana, and L. H. Greenwalt of South Carolina, who has charge of the company's business in that territory, were calling at the home office yesterday.

C. P. NORRIS DIES AT CARLYLE HOME

Was Brother of Mrs. Hattie Doying of This City—Death Resulted from Blood Poisoning.

A message was received in the city Tuesday of the death of C. P. Norris which occurred at his home in Carlyle Tuesday afternoon.

Deceased was a brother of Mrs. Hattie Doying who went to Carlyle to visit two weeks ago and was at his bedside when the end came.

The death of Mr. Norris came as a great shock to his family and friends. He injured one of his hands about a week ago and it became infected and blood poisoning developed which was the cause of death.

He was the youngest member of the family, being about 63 years of age at the time of his death. He was born and spent all his life in the city of Carlyle where he was engaged in the grocery business. He was a citizen of high standing in his home city and his death was received with universal regret.

Mr. Norris was a member of the Presbyterian church. He visited his sister, Mrs. Doying here frequently and was well known by many local residents. Besides his widow he is survived by one brother, William Norris, and one sister, Mrs. Hattie Doying.

The time of the funeral has not been announced.

CASS COUNTY MURDER CASE GOES TO JURY

June Wayman Before Court to Answer for Killing of Frank Norris.

Virginia, Oct. 15.—The trial of June Wayman for the murder of Frank Norris was concluded here this afternoon. The case went to the jury about 3 o'clock. Up to a late hour tonight no verdict had been reached.

The murder occurred on the road midway between Beardstown and Virginia about 11 o'clock p. m., May 23, 1918. Wayman, accompanied by a companion, named Hood, was driving a car on the way to Beardstown. The young men met a car going to Virginia with five passengers, of whom Norris was one. The four men accompanying Norris testified that Hood and Wayman drove in such a way that they were forced into the ditch. Norris, according to the testimony, called out to Wayman and asked what he meant by such driving. Wayman, it was said at the trial, responded with "What's that?" and drawing a revolver fired. The bullet struck Norris in the heart and he died instantly. Hood and Wayman proceeded to Beardstown by a round about way and were subsequently arrested by the police.

Self-defense was the plea made at the trial. Wayman was defended by W. H. Dietrich of Beardstown and the prosecution was conducted by State's Attorney L. M. McClure of Cass county. The state did not ask for infliction of capital punishment but for imprisonment. Strong testimony was introduced to show that Wayman was not attacked or in danger of attack when he fired. Norris was a brother of W. L. Norris of Jacksonville.

NOTICE!

Clothing, shoe and furniture merchants and sales people are requested to meet tonight, at 7:45 o'clock, at rooms of Chamber of Commerce, to discuss working conditions.

COMBINATION SWINE SALE IS PROPOSED

Will Be Held in Jacksonville Oct. 26th—Any Breeder of Pure Bred Stock Can Enter Offerings.

Morgan county breeders of hogs will hold a meeting Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the office of County Agent G. B. Kendall. The purpose is to arrange for a combination sale of pure bred hogs to be held in Jacksonville, October 29. This combination sale is being arranged for by the breeders association, but will be open to all breeders of pure bred livestock in Morgan county.

The exact place in Jacksonville where the sale will be held and other preliminary arrangements have not been completed and that is the purpose of the conference scheduled for next Saturday. It has been the experience in other counties where farm organizations are in force that these combination livestock sales are very popular. Livestock breeders who are not in the business on large enough scale to have a private sale thus are afforded an opportunity for disposing of their surplus stock.

Combination offerings are usually of such size that more bidders are attracted than will attend any one man's sale. In addition, a sale of this kind will mean that the offerings will not be confined to one type of hogs, and that buyers for Duroes, Poland Chinas, Berkshires and other well known breeds will attend. Further facts about the sale will be made known after the meeting to be held Saturday.

COMMUNITY WELFARE CAMPAIGN IN CHAPIN

Plans Completed For Church Efficiency and Community Welfare Campaign in Chapin, Oct. 21-26—Will be Conducted by James L. Scofield, Under Auspices of Christian Church.

Plans are practically complete for the "Church Efficiency and Community Welfare campagin which is to be conducted by James L. Scofield in Chapin, October 21-26. The campaign is under the auspices of the Christian church of Chapin, of which Rev. C. G. Cantrell is pastor. The general theme of the program is "Why the average man of today is only fifty per cent efficient," and the results of similar campaigns elsewhere are such that the people of Chapin vicinity are anticipating excellent results upon the home, church and school.

James L. Scofield

O. C. Bolman of this city, district field worker Illinois Christian Missionary society, spent a week in Gillespie recently while Mr. Scofield was conducting a similar campaign there. In speaking of the campaign Mr. Bolman said: "It would not matter what a church desired to do, one of these campaigns would put the folks in shape to put it over. Mr. Scofield proposes no organizations of any kind but puts new life and spirit into the ones we have. When he is thru the folks are ready to do something."

Of the campaign conducted in Taylorville in 1918, Rev. John D. Rugh, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian church, wrote: "Mr. Scofield's address last night at the M. E. church to a large and representative audience on 'Two Conversions' is a masterpiece. It is the equal of any address that I have ever heard Mr. Sunday make—minus the slang."

The program as announced is as follows:

Tuesday, Oct. 21, 8 p. m.—Mass meeting. Subject, "Values."

Wednesday, Oct 22, 8 p. m.—Mass meeting. Subject, "Teen Age."

Thursday, Oct. 23, 8 p. m.—Mass meeting Subject, "Three Foundation Stones." 9 p. m. Church social.

Friday, Oct. 24, 3 p. m.—Women and girls. Subject, "The Daughter's Danger." 8 p. m.—Mass meeting. Subject, "Nine Priceless Gems."

Saturday, Oct. 25, 8 p. m.—Mass meeting. Subject, "Dead Sure."

Sunday, Oct. 26, 7 p. m.—Union young people's meeting. Subject, "What Can I Do?" 8 p. m.—Mass meeting. Subject, "Two Conversions."

EDUCATORS WATCHING SMITH-TOWNER BILL

Proposal to Add Department of Education to Federal Government Attracts Wide Interest.

Educators are greatly interested in the movement to establish a department of education, with a secretary of education in the president's cabinet.

Hugh S. Magill, secretary of the National Educational Association has prepared a leaflet showing the advantages to the cause of education in all the states thru the proposed legislation. Some paragraphs from the statement follow:

History of Bill.

The Smith-Towner Educational Bill now before Congress, introduced in the House by Congressman Horace Mann Towner of Iowa and known as H. R. 7, and in the Senate by Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, and known as S. 1017, establishes a Department of Education with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet and authorizes the appropriation of $100,000,000 by the Fedral Government to encourage the states in the promotion of education.

Of the $100,000,000 authorized to be appropriated, $7,500,000 is for the removal of illiteracy; $7,500,000 for the Americanization of foreigners; $50,000,000 for the partial payment of teachers' salaries and the promotion of public education generally, particularly in rural communities; $20,000,000 for the promotion of physical education, including health and sanitation; and $15,000,000 for the training of teachers.

The bill provides that a state must furnish an equal amount for each of the purposes named in order to receive its share of these apportionments. There is a specific provision "That all the educational facilities encouraged by the provisions of this Act shall be organized, supervised and administered exclusively by the legally constituted state and local educational authorities of the state." All funds allotted to a state must be distributed and administered in accordance with the laws of the state. Under the provisions of the bill, state autonomy and local control of education are most carefully preserved.

Some Benefits.

What benefits will accrue from a Department of Education with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet? In the first place, it does not mean that the Federal Government proposes to assume the control and administration of education. Such an attempt would be clearly unconstitutional, nor would it be for the best interests of our public schools. The schools must be kept in close touch with the people whom they serve and be subject to their immediate supervision and control. The Federal Government can set up standards and show why such standards should be accepted, but the authority of final decision in all educational matters must remain in the states where it is placed by the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution.

The establishment of a Department of Education with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet will give to education the recognition which it justly deserves because of its vital importance from the standpoint of national welfare. Thru such a department the Federal Government could promote education, as it has promoted other great interests over which it does not have control. Examples of promotion without control are found in the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Labor.

When our Government was established it was decided, after very careful deliberation, to place the administration of the different departments then created under officials appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. At first there were but three such departments, the Department of State, the Department of the Treasury, and the Department of War. The heads of these departments together with the Attorney General, appointed by Washington, were his immediate advisors and came to be known as the President's Cabinet.

History Recalled.

While the controversy over the establishment of a Department of Agriculture was going on, the educators of the country urged the establishment of a Department of Education, insisting that education was of no less importance to national welfare than agriculture. Altho their claims were not successfully refuted, their petition was not granted, and education has remained unto this day in a subordinate bureau of the Department of the Interior. This is probably due in part to the fact that educators have not been persistent and effective in urging the promotion of education as have the sponsors of other interests, and also to the fact that certain private interests have always opposed the development of public education.

A few years later the representatives of commerce and of labor set up their claims for Federal recognition, and as a result of their persistent efforts the Department of Commerce and Labor was established in 1903 for the recognition and promotion of these two important interests. In 1913 this Department was separated into the Department of Commerce and the Department of Labor, each with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet.

In the light of this history it is necessary only to show that education is vitally related to national welfare in order to justify its recognition and promotion by the establishment of a Department of Education with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet. This is so evident that it would seem hardly necessary to offer arguments in its support. When it was found that of the 2,400,000 drafted men between the ages of 21 and 31 more than 700,000 could not read and write, the Federal Government came face to face with education as a question of the greatest national importance.

No Autocratic Power.

The National Government thru its Department of Education will exercise no autocratic power in the realization of this end. It will stimulate and encourage but it can never dictate. It will make a thoro investigation of all educational questions, and a comparative study of the educational systems of all the states. It will then suggest certain educational standards, based upon this broader knowledge, which should be attained in all the states in order to preserve our free institutions and make possible the realization of our highest national ideals. The Secretary of Education, because of his high official position, will always have a hearing. What his department proposes will receive the consideration of the President, of Congress, and of the people of the country.

Thru national promotion and stimulation standards will be raised in all states. The day will be hastened when it can no longer be said that millions of American citizens cannot read the Constitution, nor even their ballots, a condition which humbles our national pride and is fraught with the greatest danger.

The perpetuity and prosperify of our nation demand that it give all possible encouragement and assistance to the states in the development thru education of a citizenship physically and intellectually sound, and imbued with the spirit and ideals of true Americanism. Thus only can our Republic be made safe, efficient and enduring.

INDEPENDENCE DAY IN SASKATCHEWAN

Farmers of Canadian Province Will Set Aside Day to be Celebrated Annually — Organize Political Party of Their Own.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 16.—Farmers of Saskatchewan, who are organizing a political party of their own thruout the province, will set aside a date late this month which is to be known as Independence day and is to be celebrated annually.

The keynote purpose of the new organization is to promote rural interest in political questions and to support a platform to be constructed along the lines of recommendations adopted some time ago by the Canadian Council of Agriculture. It is understood that farmers in other western provinces may take similar action soon.

The first meeting of Sasketchewan farmers was held here recently. Speakers declared that a farmers' political party in this province would insure favorable legislation upon all subjects affecting crops, lands, produce distribution and the cost of living. It also was declared that such political action would mean almost a solid rural representation at Ottawa.

Figures were given out at the convention, showing there are approximately 106,000 farmers in Saskatchewan. The total voting strength of the province is about 320,000. The foreign population is given as 168,000. There was some opposition among the farmers to including foreign speaking agriculturists in the new party but it has been decided to make citizenship the basis of membership

Central Oil Shale Refining Company Increases Dividends

Earnings Show Steady Increase—Experienced Oil Men at the Helm

Stockholders of the Central Oil Shale Refining Company were delighted to learn when they received their August dividend checks that the company had found it possible to increase the dividend rate 50 per cent per annum, which places the stock on a 36 per cent basis on par. As the August dividend was the sixth monthly dividend, it is safe to say that the Central Oil Shale Refining Company has now entered the ranks of the season dividend payers, and that the only possible change in the present rate will be an increase.

The Bankers Journal firmly believes that an increase will shortly be justified, for the company has added some Texas acreage to its already extensive holdings, which will undoubtedly shortly be proved to be among the best holdings of the organization, for lying between the big paying Ranger and Desdemona oil fields, it is certain that the aggressive drilling campaign planned will result in greatly increased production for the Central Oil Shale Refining Company.

Naturally enough the company is not paying dividends upon its undoubtedly rosy future on the acreage just added. From the very start of the organization it was the idea of the experienced executives to invite the general public to participate only in a producing company. With this idea in mind the company secured some leases in Franklin county, Kansas, from which it is now obtaining enough oil to justify the present dividend rate. The wells are located in what is known as a shallow field, that is, no deep drilling is necessary to obtain oil in paying quantities. On the Franklin county tract the compay now has 45 producing wells with drilling rigs costantly adding new wells.

One of the most valuable assets of the company has not yet been mentioned. In Garfield county, Colorado, on what is known as Parachute Creek, the Central Oil Shale Refining Company owns one of the richest known deposits of oil shale. Geologists in employ of the government have been enthusiastic about this deposit for some time and have put themselves on record as believing that these deposits of shale oil are valuable, and highly valuable, both for the oil possibility itself and for by-products.

Extraction of oil from shale is a new industry in the country, but has been worked successfully in Scotland for so long a period that under the guidance of the experienced men at the head of the Central Oil Shale Refining Company the extensive Colorado holdings of the organization will be very profitable.

The executive heads of the company are worthy of special note. The president, Edward P. Allen, is an attorney of Quincy, Ill. He has been definitely connected with oil concerns for a number of years, and in his governing of the affairs of the Central Oil Shale Refining Company has exhibited a high type of ability that augurs well for the future development of the organization. Associated with Mr. Allen in the direct management of the company are Zach C. Elkin, vice-president, and Joseph E. Kelly, secretary-treasurer. In each case they are men of broad vision and successful pasts in business. Mr. Elkin, of vast sales experience, is giving his entire time to the sales department of the company. Mr. Kelly has had long experience in the lumber industry and his knowledge of modern business methods means much to the Shale company, to which he is giving his entire time.

It is impossible to read the complete story of the company, which can be obtained from its Chicago offices, 29 South La Salle street, without becoming most enthused over the company's prospects.

The Banker, Merchant and Manufacturer

AMONG THE OIL INTERESTS

Have Two Great Sources of Oil Supply

Central Oil Shale Refining Co. is an oil producing concern with large holding in four oil states — Oil shale holdings alone offer great opportunity for investment.

It is an old saying that "fact is stranger than fiction" and this proverb has never received a more striking confirmation than has been found in the history of the oil industry.

From the days marked by the spectacular career of "Coal Oil Johnny" down to just the other day, when the three hundred typists and a like number of male clerks of Armour & Co., received news from Texas that "The Lucky Thirteen Oil Company" had brought in a producer, the facts concerning investments in oil have proved stranger than fiction.

Take the story of The Lucky Thirteen, it reads like fiction, but it relates facts. About a year ago Fred Tennant, an Armour employe, was sent from Chicago to manage the company interests in Dallas, Texas. The oil excitement was on at that time and Tennant wired his fellow clerks in Chicago that he had a chance to get hold of some promising oil acres. The clerks and typists organized a company and about 700 of them bought stock in this company at $10 a share. A few weeks ago Tennant wired that a good well had come in and the owners of shares would do well to hold them. There was great rejoicing among the Chicago investors and the price of shares jumped from $10 to $100.

This circumstance is only one of an innumerable list of similar experiences which have fallen to the lot of investors in oil. Frequently the investment of a few hundred dollars has resulted in the securing of an independent fortune.

The discovery of rich oil deposits has become more assured with the advace of science and the element of chance has been greatly reduced. With experts at the head of an oil company and with men of energy and honesty in control, the investor in the stocks of an oil organization takes less risk than he would in almost any other kind of business.

The returns in proportion to the amount invested are enormous and quick results can confidently be expected. As a matter of statistical record, established by a long series of events, it may be said that the most attractive field of investment today is to be found in the oil industry. Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado are all famous for oil production.

In these four great oil states The Central Oil Shale Refining Co., with its general offices, National Life building, Chicago, has its valuable holdings. This is a producing oil company with an authorized capital of $500,000 fully paid up and non-assessable, depository Central Trust Company, of Chicago. This organization is operating under the new securities law of Illinois and is officered and managed by men of well known integrity and high standing in business and social circles. Edward P. Allen, the well known lawyer, appointed master in chancery for Southern District, United States District Court, is president. He has an expert knowledge of the oil business and served as a director in the Willow Creek Oil & Gas Company. Zach C. Elkin, who for ten years was employed by the United States government in statistical work and who was largely connected with the automobile and motor truck business, for four years Chicago manager of the General Motors Truck Co., is vice-president. Joseph E. Kelly, who has extended experience in railway and lumber business is secretary-treasurer. These men have invested their own money in this great oil enterprise, have bought stock at the same price at which it was offered to the public and are devoting their time, experience and energy to pushing the work forward.

This is a producing company. It now has 45 producing wells and locations for several hundred more. With only 10 per cent of its holdings drilled out its present earnings from sale of oil is many times dividend requirements. Its present monthly dividends are 3 per cent on par and are being paid. It owns 5,370 acres of oil lands; holding 260 acres in Kansas; 60 acres in Oklahoma, 4,565 acres in Texas, and 480 acres of the richest shale land in the world, located in Garfield county, Colorado. It is a valuable fact that so far the company has not struck a single dry hole.

The holdings of this company in Colorado shale lands is something of vital intereset to investors. Undoubtedly the most startling development in the petroleum industry is the discovery of oil shale. Garfield county, Colorado, has risen into fame because of its immense deposits of shale, rich in oil. This shale rises in great cliffs and United States government experts report tests showing that the average cubic yard of this shale contains as high as 90 gallons of high grade oils; in addition to the oil there is a valuable output of by-products. It is certainly a startling idea that petroleum can be quarried like building stone, doing away with the hazard of drilling wells and producing an output which can be accurately measured (with a surveyor's chain) in advance.

Every ton of average oil shale contains from one to two barrels of extremely high grade oil with an estimated added value of $6.00 to $10.00 per ton for the by-products. And the wonderful feature of it all is that the producer can "touch, taste and handle" and accurately estimate the amount of riches contained in his holdings. No guess work about it; no gamble; absolute facts written in stone.

The United States Geological Survey have advocated the development of our shale deposits, and both this department and the government Bureau of Mines have published numerous reports showing the wonderful riches locked up in these shale lands. As recently as March of this year, Secretary Lane of the Department of the Interior reported to the congress that these western shales would yield 70,000,000,000 (seventy billion) barrels of high grade oil.

There are no experimental features in the successful working of oil shale. Petroleum shale has long been mined in Scotland for 70 years and from rock less rich in oil than the shale of Colorado good profits have been secured. The business of mining and treatment of oil shale may be entered into with precisely as great assurance as attends the installation of any other manufacturing process depending upon an abundance of readily accessible raw material and an assured market for the producers. Shale deposits are just as measurable and positive as are the shale beds from which Portland cement are made. They are easily sampled and their average oil yields can be accurately determined in advance of industrial operations. The processes are well known and the results can be accurately estimated.

Looking at the company's proposition from every angle we regard stock in the same as offering most exceptional opportunity for highly remunerative investment, with no chance of loss, and every assurance of a steadily increasing rate of income in an already producing company, managed by men who propose to develop the business along large and profitable lines. It would be well for those interested to get in touch either in person or by mail with the management, thus securing this attractive proposition. Inquiries should be sent to the Central Oil Shale Refining Co., National Life building, 29 S. La Salle street, Chicago.

The Company and Its Policy

The Central Oil Shale Refining Company was organized and financed through its development stage by experienced business men. It is their desire to offer what in their judgment is a legitimate, sound investment in A PRODUCING COMPANY, an investment carrying strong possibilities of paying large dividends indefinitely. It has been and will continue to be the policy of this company to operate only in proven territories and to acquire from time to additional, partially developed property in proven territory, which can be fully developed for the benefit of the shareholders of this company.

The question might arise in the minds of the readers as to why a company of this kind, with 45 producing wells, and a property that has been fully equipped and largely developed as our Kansas leases have been, should offer any of its capital stock to the public. It is important that our leases should be drilled out immediately and development work begun on our other properties and acreage that, after careful investigation, we may see fit to acquire. The important feature of development work with all successful oil companies is to drill out all producing property at the earliest possible date.

In other words, the company not only has to drill out its present acreage, but to be constantly looking ahead to future production. It is with this idea in view, of accumulating a surplus to buy and develop additional acreage, and also for the purpose of erecting retorts and the necessary machinery on our Colorado shale property, to put it into production, that the present offering of stock is made.

There is no preferred stock in the Central Oil Shale Refining Company. The capitalization is small considering the value of the properties, and every shareholder has an absolutely even chance at the earnings of the company. There has not been and there will not be any promotion stock whatever issued in connection with this company. The officers of the company paid for their holdings at exactly the same price at which the stock was offered to the public and are devoting their time and energies to the development and upbuilding of the company. They cannot receive any profit on their investment without each and every stockholder receiving a like amount, proportionate to his holdings.

DIVIDENDS BEING PAID

The Central Oil Shale Refining Company's seventh monthly dividend, of 3 per cent, was declared, and made payable the 13th of the present month. Are you a stockholder?

The invocation was by Dr. F. M. Rule. Following this the president announced the committees for the session. They were:

Credentials — C. D. Rush, Griggsville; C. F. Braden, Edinburg; Emory Livengood, Stonington.

Resolutions — M. A. Holben, Jake Bilyou, F. L. Sharpe.

Grievances—H. M. Metz, Chambersburg; J. H. Plumkett, Pleasant Plains; L. L. Savage, Ashland.

Following the appointment of committees the following program was given:

Vocal number — Miss Gladys Sargent of Illinois Woman's college.

The address of welcome was delivered by Judge H. P. Samuell in the absence of Mayor Crabtree who is in Chicago on business connected with the Red Cross drive. Judge Samuell gave the delegates a warm welcome and assured them that Jacksonville was glad to have them as guests.

President F. C. Walbaum made response for the state association. John K. Long welcomed the delegates in behalf of Jacksonville branch 158. After receiving the reports of subordinate lodges adjournment was taken until 1:30 o'clock.

Upon reconvening at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the report of the credential committee was first received and the session officially opened for business.

The resolutions committee presented resolutions thanking Dr. F. M. Rule, Judge Samuell and the young ladies of Illinois Woman's college who took part in the program.

The resolutions also commended the patriotism and sacrifice of the members of the order during the war, expressed sympathy for President Wilson in his illness and hope of an early recovery. The resolutions also called upon all authorities to stop and prevent the pollution of the streams and waters of Illinois especially by factories.

John K. Long offered an amendment to the law to change the name of the order to fit in with the wide scope of work now being done. Mr. Long contended that when the association was first organized that it was entirely for the prevention of horse stealing. Since then it had widened its scope to prevent and prosecute all kinds of crime, hence the thought that the state body should recommend to the national body for consideration the adoption of a new name. The proposition, however, was voted down.

During the past year Illinois has shown a gratifying increase in membership. In fact it is the only state in the union that has shown an increase in the past twelve months. There are now over 4,000 members of the order in the state.

President — Abbott Laugh, Griggsville.

Vice President—C. L. Montgomery, Blue Mound.

Secretary — Sidney Holben, Edinburg.

Treasurer — J. S. Felmly, Griggsville.

Delegates to National Convention—A. B. Kirk, Edinburg; George Dozier, Clarksdale; W. A Evans.

Corn Husking Prices.

Last season 6 cents and board, or 7 cents when the husker boarded himself, were the prices generally paid throughout Morgan County. This year the yield is expected to run from 40 to 50 bushels on our best land. With this yield some of the farmers north of Alexander seem to think they will not have any difficulty in getting corn husked at last years prices. Of course there will be adjustments expected in the case of low yielding and down corn.

Drilled Corn Does Well.

Samuel Darley of Pisgah is a firm believer in drilling corn. A trip through his fields indicates that he gets results. Every stalk bears an ear. A modest estimate of the yield would put it over the 50 bushel mark. As a general thing most people steer clear of drilled corn because of the difficulty in keeping the weeds down. Mr. Darley handles that side of the problem well. This spring he harrowed the corn after it was up and then gave the field but two cultivations with the 6 shovel cultivators. The corn is remarkably clean when the number of cultivations are considered.

Chinch Bugs.

They are scattered here and there in numbers somewhat alarming. It will certainly pay to burn headlands and fencerows and any other trash that may harbor them. The most of our farmers have made an honest effort to avoid the Hessian Fly by late seeding. The wise move is now to clean up the chinch bugs haunts.

Advisor Miller of Macoupin County writes, "On last Tuesday the swarms of chinch bugs in the city limits of Carlinville were so thick that they looked like swarms of bees. Men who were in the county during the chinch bug years of 1913-1914 say that the bugs are flying thicker this year than they did in the fall of 1913. During the last 6 weeks, they have appeared in every part of the county and unless something checks them they are likely to do a great deal of damage."

The Eden

The Eden

Electric Washer

One More Opportunity for a

Free Trial

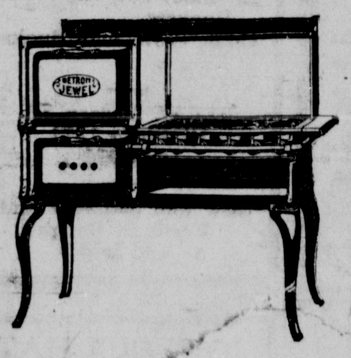

We don't believe that it is necessary to go further into detail with regard to this superior washer. It is a proven fact (right here in Jacksonville) that the Eden is unexcelled in its line.

We are willing to back our judgment of washing machines, and of our knowledge of the Eden in particular, by sending one of them to your home this week and wash free of any charge or obligation any class or quantity of washable fabrics, and leave the results to you. If you are not absolutely satisfied in every respect we remove the machine at once and you are under no obligations.

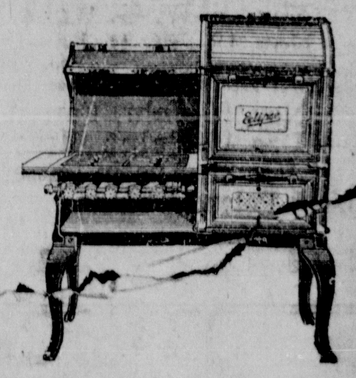

The Eden will be accompanied to your home by an expert factory man who will remain until demonstration is finished.

If you are having any sort of difficulty with your washing, please give this matter serious consideration. The saving you will make in time, the saving in wear on your finer fabrics, and the ease and comfort with which your washings will be done, soon will repay you.

RECENT HAPPENINGS IN WOODSON PRECINCT

Mrs. Louis Harsch Returns To Home in Peoria — Thomas Hawks Improves Residence — Other Items of Interest.

Woodson, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Louis Harsch of Peoria spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Baptiste. Mrs. Harsch was en route for home from Alton where she had attended the Illinois Federation of Music which convened in that city on the eighth, ninth and tenth. Mrs. Harsch is one of the three state artists who won fame at Chicago last December as pianist, the others are Miss Edith McCullough, soprano, and Miss Ebba Sundstrum, violinist, both of Chicago. Mrs. Harsch appeared on the program at Alton several times and also accompanied Miss McCullough and Miss Sundstrum in several numbers. She has wonderful musical talent and is a lady of pleasing disposition. She thoroughly enjoyed her short visit with her parents here.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Russel has been very ill but is improving very satisfactorily.

Miss Rearick and Miss Gladys Sargent, both of the Woman's College in Jacksonville, spent Sunday with friends here. Miss Rearick is instructor in voice at the college and Miss Sargent is a student in voice. Miss Rearick is also a student in pipe organ. They attended services at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and rendered some very fine selections which were much enjoyed by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Wilson and son John Newton of Sinclair and Mrs. Julia Hubble of Carrollton, Mo., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Baxter.

Dr. G. W. Miller and Miss Marie Megginson are enjoying a visit with relatives near St. Charles, Mo.

Mrs. Thomas Shelton of Ashland returned home Sunday after spending the past two weeks here with relatives.

Miss Oliver of Jacksonville spent Sunday with her friend, Miss Alta Kehl.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Goveia and family of Lyhnville were guests of the former's aunt, Mrs. Lewis Baptiste and husband Sunday.

Miss Grace McHorter spent Tuesday last week with friends in Murrayville.

Dorothy Pauline Whitlock, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Whitlock, near Murrayville, has been ill, but is reported better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fanning have moved to the Wm. Megginson farm east of here.

S. A. D. Rigg of Murrayville was a caller here Monday.

Mrs. Mary Dunlap and son Edward of Jacksonville spent Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. Clara Henry. Friends of Mrs. Henry will be pleased to know that she is somewhat improved.

Tom Hawks who purchased the Harney residence has made some improvements by having the house repainted, also building a new garage.

The ladies of Unity Presbyterian church will serve lunch at Walter Smith's sale at his home three miles east of here on Friday of this week.

FIRST NUMBER OF CHAPIN LYCEUM FRIDAY

The patrons of the Chapin lyceum are reminded that the first number of the course will be given Friday evening, October 17, at the Amuse-U theatre. The program is an unusually attractive one and will be well worth attending.

AROUND HOME

—Mrs. Emily Morey, aged 71, was found dead at her home in Urbana Sunday.

—The strike of Stuber & Kuck employes, in Peoria, which has been on since August, has been declared off.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Cary of Rantoul, died Sunday night at the age of 77. Her death resulted from a fall Friday.

—A marriage license was issued in Springfield Monday to W. L. Warren and Rachel McVay, both of Mt. Pulaski.

—The inquest developed that John Joyce of Peoria, who was killed while hunting Sunday, was the accidental victim of Joseph Schaab, his chum, instead of killing himself.

—Frances Marie Thomas, fourteen months old, was accidentally drowned in a water tank or trough used for the watering of cattle on the farm of her father, Henry Thomas, between Barnes and Merna at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

—John U. Egolf, one of the most prominent business men and citizens of Gridley, died at his home in that place Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock following a long illness.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Camp of Bement celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary Tuesday. Just two weeks ago, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Tenney celebrated their fifty-fifth anniversary here. Both families have lived in Bement fifty-five years and Mr. Camp and Mr. Tenney were in partnership in the hardware business for many years.

—The wedding of Miss Margaret McGinnis and Anthone Esala, both of New Berlin, was solemnized at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Mary's church in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. Rev. D. Costello, pastor, officiating. The attendants were Miss Helen McGinnis and Edward Esala, sister and brother, respectively, of the contracting parties.

LYNNVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hamell and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Fligg.

Miss Irene Hamell and Keith Schofield, who are attending school in Jacksonville, spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents.

Mrs. Carl May has returned home after a visit with friends in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Coultas and daughter and W. H. Stephenson and daughter Opal have returned home after a visit in Springfield.

Tom Dodsworth, L. M. Shirtcliff and James Lazenby are spending the week in Chicago.

Mr. Mayfield has returned to his home in Chicago after a visit at the Mayfield farm, west of the city.

Dr. Roberts of Chapin was called to our village Monday to see Mrs. George Fligg, who is sick.

Mrs. Andrew Tranbarger of Franklin, is a patient at Our Savior's hospital, where she recently underwent a severe operation. Mrs. Tranbarger was reported yesterday as improving in a gratifying way.

ESSEX Motor Cars

Have You Examined

A Smart Five-Passenger Model of the Light Car Men Praise so Highly

The Essex Sedan?

You must have seen this dainty new Essex.

More than a thousand are in service.

You Will Recognize It at a Glance

It comes in the same beautiful green that distinguishes the Essex touring car. The body is simple with the newest square lines, low roof, but with ample head room, wide doors, deep seats and high backs.

Has Large Car Comforts With Small Car Costs

For one reason, men speak of the Essex as they do, because of its costly car finish and equipment. The Essex has no useless length or weight and no sacrifice has been made in any of the comforts. It has all the passenger space that larger cars afford.

You have but to ride in an Essex to know its comfort. There is the large car's solidness about it that removes all sense of its weight or size.

And yet its size gives distinct advantages.

It makes the Essex easy to drive. It can be steered with two fingers. It can be turned in a short radius, parked in a small space, and of course there is an immense saving in operating costs.

And, too, its size accounts for its costly car quality at a moderate price.

It Is Just as Lively as the Other Essex

Many will tell you the fastest automobile ride they ever enjoyed was in an Essex.

Others say it is the quickest and liveliest car in acceleration they know. We leave it to the Essex to reveal those qualities.

But rest assured it is not sluggish. It gives way to no car where acceleration, speed and comfort of driving and riding are concerned.

The season when the Sedan will be most enjoyed is approaching. So you should speak for your Essex without delay. The one thousand in service, to say nothing of ten times as many touring models in use indicates a continued Essex shortage.

BUY COAL THIS WEEK!

We have been preaching for some time on the advisability of buying coal early. Many have heeded our advice—but there remains quite a number who have not. To those we say — buy your coal this week. The unsettled condition of labor demands it. Cold weather soon will be upon us. Don't be caught with an empty bin. We guarantee honest weights and honest coal.

"CARRY ON"!

If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take "Cascarets"

Feel grand! Be efficient! Don't stay sick, bilious, headachy, constipated. Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, your breath bad and your stomach sour. Why not get a small box of Cascarets and enjoy the nicest, gentlest laxative-cathartic you ever experienced? Cascarets never gripe, sicken or inconvenience one like Salts, Oils, Calomel or harsh pills. Cascarets bring sunshine to cloudy minds and half sick bodies. They work while you sleep.

QUICK! YOUR HAIR NEEDS "DANDERINE"

Check Ugly Dandruff! Stop Hair Coming Out and Double Its Beauty.

A little "Danderine" cools, cleanses and makes the feverish, itchy scalp soft and pliable; then this stimulating tonic penetrates to the famished hair roots, revitalizing and invigorating every hair in the head, thus stopping the hair falling out, or getting thin, dry or fading.

After a few applications of "Danderine" you seldom find a fallen hair or a particle of dandruff, besides every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and thickness.

A few cents buys a bottle of delightful "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter.

"Fine Dressing" of Clerks Explained by Employer

Expensive Clothes Possible When Perspiration No Longer Ruins Them

"Girls in my office are well dressed, I admit," said an employe yesterday in reply to a remark that his clerks were unusually well dressed.

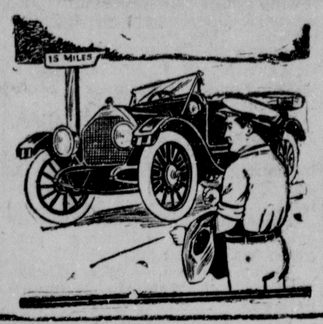

"But there is a very definite reason for this. Formerly, girls could not afford to buy fine blouses and expensive tailored suits, because perspiration of the underarm ruined them in a few weeks.

"However, they are now able, at a trifling increase, to buy the fine textured blouses and suits, because I am told, they use ODORONO, a toilet preparation that checks excessive perspiration of the underarm and saves waists and coats from being stained and ruined.

"The finer blouses with ordinary care wear well and besides the girls themselves are freed from the annoyance.

ODORONO, quoted by this employer is the leading toilet preparation for relief from excessive perspiration, and the sure means to perfect daintiness. It was prepared by a physician, and is endorsed by medical authorities. Be sure you get the genuine ODORONO. At all druggists and department stores. 60 cents and $1.00. Trial size, 30 cents.

CORN TAKES A MODERATE ADVANCE

CHICAGO, Oct. 15—Announcement that the longshoremen's strike had been called off led to a moderate advance today in the corn market.

Prices, however, reacted somewhat, and the close was unsettled ⅜c to ½c net higher with Dec. $1.22⅜ to $1.22½ and May $1.21¼ to $1.21⅜. Oats gained ½ to ⅝c and provisions 5c to 70c.

Corn was bullishly affected from the outset by the ending of the longshoremen's strike, as grain had begun to pile up at interior terminals and lake loadings from here had been brought to a virtual standstill. Unsettled weather tended likewise to strengthen the corn market today and so too did an advance in quotations on hogs. At one time, talk of a revival in export demand for oats counted as a further bullish factor. On the whole however, buyers of corn were not aggresive and considerable realizing on the part of holders was noted toward the last. New corn arriving was said to show exceptionally good quality for this season of the year.

Oats displayed independent strength as a result of gossip that 500,000 bushels had been taken for export. Messages on the subject, tho were conflicting. Provisions were lifted by the upturns in the value of grain and hogs.

STOCKS SHOW FURTHER HESITATION

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Monetary conditions and the industrial situation seemed to offer sufficient explanation for the further hesitation shown by the stock market today intermittent pressure from the shorts adding to the irregularity. Industrial developments were somewhat confusing, settlement of local labor differences being offset by the strike call of the union mine workers and the less optimistic views of steel trade authorities.

Dealings failed by a considerable margin to approach yesterday's large and more varied turnover. It was regarded as significant of technical conditions that excepting the rally of the last half hour, the market was most active when prices were declining.

Trading again centered largely in oils, motors and equipments, altho shipping and food shares were included in the opinions of the bull pools. Tobacco, leathers, metals and unclassified specialties were less prominent at mixed gains and losses and rails, Southern Pacific excepted were scarcely a factor.

Chandler motor (new stock) and Bethlehem Motor, both at new high records enlivened the latter dealings with steels and equipments altho United States failed to hold its slight gain ending unchanged on the day. Sales amounted to 1,375,000 shares.

Liberty issues were the foremost features of an unusually active bond market that group however, manifesting an irregular trend with the exception of the 3½s which added to its recent steady rise of $100.48. Total sales (par value) aggregated $18,850,000. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

Gasoline Automobiles Made Into "Steamers"

That's the lateset in the motor car world, and dozens of car owners are revealing an unusual interest in Joy Brother's Garage to find out how it is accomplished.

"They come in smoking from wasted gasoline and wasted lubricants and go out steaming with efficiency," Mr. Joy asserted. "We actually put steam into the gasoline and really make gas cars into steamers."

Mr. Joy, who is technically trained in engineering, had long known the necessity of getting moisture into the automobile engine. He searched the country for something to do this properly, and finally found it. The process is made possible for owners by the Automatic Carburetor, for which the garage has the exclusive agency here. Owners of cars assure the automobile expert the carburetor does more than he claims for it.

"The steam carburetor, for which automobile experts have labored for years, gives the automobile continuously the effects which the owner notes now on a rainy day," Mr. Joy said. "It puts live steam into the gasoline vapor. The steam, as automobile men know, eliminates carbon completely and keeps it out of the motor. In addition it increases the mileage from the fuel by 30 per cent and increases the power of the motor 10 per cent. Cars that have trouble climbing hills now will fairly scoot over them when the steam is put in as this carburetor puts it in.

"This carburetor, which does not replace the regular carburetor, but operates with it, is one of the greatest advances in engineering the automobile world has produced in years. Every owner who has seen it in operation has wanted one. I am getting them for Jacksonville owners as fast as the factory can supply me with them and owners find the carburetor surpasses anything they anticipated it would do. It is a remarkable efficiency maker for any automobile."

PATRICK MULHERN, VETERAN ALTON ENGINEER, DEAD

Death came to Engineer Patrick J. Mulhern, a well known Alton engineer, at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday while on the operating table at the Mayo Brothers sanitarium at Rochester. Minn. He left two weeks ago for that institution in order to be given a thoro examination. He was compelled to give up the road the middle of January last and last spring was in a critical condition. He rallied during the summer and was able to be about and had some hopes of resuming his run. His physical condition was too precarious, however, and it was decided that he go to Minnesota as the last resort. The exact nature of his ailment could not be determined. Engineer Mulhern was born in Mason City and spent his early years there. He came to Bloomington with his parents in the seventies and secured a position with the Alton as fireman. He was promoted toengineer in 1884 and stood ninth on the roster in the point of seniority. He had been on various divisions, but for the past ten years had handled the fast trains on the north end, his latest run being on 4 and 7. He ranked with the leading engineers of the system, his record being clean and his standing with the officials of the highest. He was not only a first class engineer but he was highly esteemed by his associates. Firemen welcomed an asignment to his engine and he was popular with all who knew him. He was 60 years of age and leaves a widow. One brother, Jhon, has not been heard from in many years and if alive, is somewhere in the west. Engineer Mulhern was a member of Holy Trinity church; of the Knights of Columbus, and Division 19 of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. It was decided yesterday to bury Engineer Mulhern by the side of relatives in Mount Carmel cemetery, Chicago. The funeral party reached Chicago at 9 a. m. Wednesday and the remains were taken to the home of Mrs. E. Sullivan, 851 Roscoe street. The funeral is to be held at Mt. Carmel church this morning at 9 o'clock. It is expected that a large number of engineers and other friends of the well known runner will go to Chicago to attend the final rites.

Patrick Laden Dies.

Patrick Laden, who was probably the best known man on the Illinois Central railroad system died Tuesday morning in Rockford. Nothing is known here as to the cause or circumstances of his death. At the time of his death he was district engineer of the northern lines, a position ranking close to that of chief engineer. He was about sixty years of age.

Pat Laden was known as superintendent of the Indiana division which includes the P. D. E. railroad. The quality which made him welcome everywhere was his affability. Everybody knew and liked Pat Laden that came in touch with him. He was superintendent of the Indiana division four years to a day, leaving Decatur July 1, 1891.

Knew Construction.

Pat Laden came up thru the maintenance of way department, probably begining as a section foreman, or maybe a section hand, altho that can not be positively stated. He was not a civil engineer but he knew more about railroad construction than most engineers. He was roadmaster on the Illinois division and also on the Chicago division and in fact he had worked pretty much all over the Illinois Central System. In gossiping with the chief dispatcher at Mattoon one day he said: "I believe I can name in order every station from Chicago to New Orleans."

"That's a pretty big undertaking," said the dispatcher. "Maybe you can name most of them.'

Named Them All.

"Well, get your official list," said Mr. Laden. The list was produced and Laden beginning at Chicago named the stations in order to New Orleans. On the 1,000 miles of line there are from 250 to 300 stations. As a memory feat there are no doubt a good many others who could do it if they had practiced for it. There is no reason to believe that Pat Laden had practiced. He simply had a superior memory and had come to know these stations in the couse of his work.

Those who recall Pat Laden say of him that he was a fine fellow. He was one of the most popular superintendents that the division has ever had. He was a good railroad man otherwise his popularity would not have got him far.

No Accident Drive.

Orders have been issued to all heads of department of the Alton, to wire to D. C. Fredericks, general safety agent for the company at Springfield, the names of all employes injured during the "No Accident" drive which starts next Saturday and which continues for two weeks. Reports to be wired must refer only to employes who will be out of service three or more days. Minor injuries are not to be reported. Mr. Frederick is hopeful that there will be no reports to wire, but, if there are, he will transmit them promptly to Hale Holden, regional director. The drive is extended over every railroad in the United States. It is believed that the contest will cause a great rivalry among the roads and the men to go the entire period without a casualty. Everyone will on his mettle to prevent actual suffering or griefs as a result of railroad accidents, and reaching the goal will make this campaign well worth while, thereby establishing a precedent that can and should be maintained. Officers and employes of railroads, and thru them the general public, will know each day what is being accomplished during this specialized period of accident prevention by daily telegraphic reports.

Mechanical Conference.

General Manager A. P. Titus came down to Bloomington Tuesday for the mechanical wage agrement conference yesterday in the office of Superintendent G. W. Seidel. Superintendent J. L. Marquette from Kansas City, and other operating and maintenance officers were present, together with their chief clerks. The new agrement was taken up by sections and construed to fit the Alton and allied roads. The application of some clauses required considerable discussion and the conference consumed the entire day.

Trainmen Dismissed.

Supt. S. P. Henderson has discharged Conductor Charles O'Connor and Brakeman O. F. Reynolds and J. C. Petrey, all well known trainmen of the Alton. The case, believed to require radical discipline, had no precedent in the history of the railroad. It seems that Conductor O'Connor and two brakemen were handling the Air Line local and had orders to pick up Conductor Crain, whose engine had become disabled, and take Crane and his brakemen and caboose thru to Roodhouse. This move involved a question of precedence in getting out of Roodhouse. O'Connor and his brakemen objected to being run around by Crane, as would be the case if they carried him to the terminal. Failing to secure any satisfaction from the dispatcher, who declined to rule upon the question of priority, O'Connor and brakemen set out Crane and his caboose on the Air Line and moved back to Springfield. A later train picked up the caboose and brought it and the crew to Springfield. Supt. Henderson ruled that the crew should have obeyed the dispatcher's instructions, whether right or wrong, and made their grievances after the move had been made. Friends of the trio are hopeful that they will be reinstated.
